Director General of the Television Channel of the General Congress of the United States of Mexico
The Canal del Congreso (Channel of the Congress) is more than a space for citizen engagement and plurality, which works towards transparency and open parliament, seeking to be accessible to the collective conscience.
Mexico’s Canal del Congreso is an international model for legislative communication.
The Bicameral Committee works with Canal del Congreso to generate new content and strengthen the digital platform; reinforces support and institutional efforts to encourage Canal del Congreso staff.
The Advisory Board is a pluralistic body of social representation for Canal del Congreso. It is comprised of 11 media specialists.
According to the current legal framework, Canal del Congreso responds to Open Parliament principles through the proactivity in its broadcasting and on its platforms. It creates a microsite as a new trend in legislative matters.
The Audience Ombudsperson promotes, protects, and safeguards the rights of the viewer. It opens the dialogue to comments and complaints from the Canal del Congreso’s audience.
Canal del Congreso addresses the technological lag through a new dynamic of interaction and audiovisual media content, to the benefit of legislative communication with citizens.
